PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

VISITORS: Sonya Bramwell – Introducing new non-profit Genesee Creative Collection with Amy Peterson, and Adair Becker

CITIZEN COMMENTS: They wanted to introduce themselves. They are starting a non-profit to support the creative arts, small businesses, and beautification projects in Genesee. They are the ones behind the Genesee Craft Fair. Would like to potentially have an art walk in the summer and start up a farmers market. A long term goal is to create a store front for selling some of their wares. They want to work with the Civic Association in areas where they overlap and add to the community with the arts. John suggested they work closely with the Civic Association because they are already an existing non-profit. They could be synergistic and make something great with them. Amy mentioned that they went to the Civic Association meeting on April 15th. Want to get comments from entire community to find out what changes and ideas the community wants so they can hone in on the best projects to serve our community. They will also be working with Chandra Smith at the school and supporting the community programs she is working to implement.

CONSENT AGENDA: Jesse asked for journal entries to be included with the financial statements. Nikki said she would send them to him and make sure they are included next time. Cody asked why the dump truck invoice was billed completely to streets. Nikki will fix that and change the allocations to the other departments as well. Motion made by Jesse to accept the consent agenda as presented along with breaking up the dump truck oil change to other funds; seconded by Bill. ROLL CALL VOTE: Bailey, Aherin, Krick, Roach; Ayes.
